

The first great gift!

It's 3 weeks until Christmas and if you haven't already, soon you will be shopping for all the gifts you want to buy for your special people. Gift giving is one of the magical Christmas blessings we get to participate in, or at least it should be. However, with all the hustle and bustle, it can become a stressful, costly, and not a very meaningful experience. We are excited to bring you this edition of your Weekly Winning Resource all about the word bestow. Bestow is simply an eloquent way of saying give. It comes from the Middle English stowen, which means to place something really valuable or honoring in the hands of another. It's a beautiful word for this time of year. When you think of bestowing a gift, it adds a nicer touch to the idea of gift giving and place a higher value on it. What type of meaningful gifts will you bestow on your special people this Christmas season?

Your Weekly Winning Word:

Bestow:

To present as a gift; give.
