

What do you depend on?

Welcome to this edition of your Weekly Winning Resource all about the word harken. To harken is not only to listen to, but it is to heed to. To heed to something means to pay special attention to. It seems a lot of people don't trust themselves. Maybe it's from past mistakes, how we were raised, or simply caring too much about what other people think. Whatever it is doesn't really matter. What matters is that we learn how to believe in our own intuition and harken to that still small voice directing us on our journey. You must trust your internal GPS and assume that it knows exactly where you are going. That small still voice really does know what is best for you and will never steer you wrong. When you learn to depend on it and listen to it every single time, your life will go much better and you will have a lot less regret. Harken to your still small voice like your life depends on it.
