

If you work hard, don't forget this!

Welcome summer! In this edition of your Weekly Winning Resource we are all about the word play. After all, it is summer, and that means it's time for some fun! Of course, we can't tell you exactly what you need and when you need it, only you can DECIDE that, but we are here to remind you that if you've been spending the majority of your time working hard, maybe it's time for some play. Play is not a luxury, but a necessity for your success! As kids, we loved to play, but somewhere between our youth and adulthood, we got focused on working hard and forgot to play. Play is not just essential for children, it's an important part of creativity, stress relief, relaxation, and stimulation for adults as well. All of these necessities are imperative for achieving your goals and dreams. Play adds joy to your life, supercharges learning, and connects you to others. Play will make your work more productive and more pleasurable. When you give yourself permission to let go of structure and just enjoy the pleasures of playing, you set yourself up for a more fulfilling and successful life. So, go play today!

What is something you like to do for nothing but the pure enjoyment of it? Maybe it's playing chess, working puzzles, throwing a frisbee, playing with your pets, reading a book, watching your favorite tv show or movie, or going for a bike ride. Whatever it is, we want to encourage you to take some time each day to incorporate your favorite way to play into your day. Remember, play is not a luxury, it is a necessity for your success.
