

When are you the most poised?

Here is your Weekly Winning Resource all about the word poised. Being poised is not about being perfect, it's about having composure and assurance when things aren't going your way. Life is full of challenges, and when you're on a mission to be the best version of yourself, you're inevitably going to get knocked down at times. To say, "life's not always a bed of roses", is an understatement. But, if you remember that success is only 20% of what happens to you and 80% in how you respond, it will help you keep the right perspective, and maintain some reason when the bad stuff does happen. There is so much pressure to be a certain way, to have a certain status, or to gain a certain level of success, and a lot of times we put these pressures on ourselves. You must remember to walk with the confidence that who you are, right now in this moment, is more than enough. Yes, it is important to keep working towards excellence and with a mindset of always wanting to improve but do so in being fully who you are. That is when you will be the most poised!
