

We all need this.

Welcome to this edition of your Weekly Winning Resource. First and foremost, we want to wish all of the amazing Moms in our community a Happy Mother's Day today. Moms truly are a supplement for success! Our Weekly Winning Word is supplement. If you're like most, when you hear the word supplement, your mind goes right to vitamins, protein shakes, and anything that would enhance your health. This is definitely the most popular way we use this word in the English language, but really the definition has a deeper meaning. If you want to improve or complete something that is lacking, a supplement can help make it better. In the same way we take vitamins to enhance our health, we need supplements to improve our success in achieving the goals and dreams we desire. Each of us are lacking in something, we simply can not be complete in every way. We need help to fill in the gaps where we are deficient.
