

This is our favorite word!

Welcome to this week's edition of your Weekly Winning Resource all about success. At I've Decided, we love this word because our mission is your success! Being successful in your goals and dreams is very important. Success provides you confidence, security, a sense of well-being, the ability to contribute at a greater level, hope, and leadership. Even more important than all those things is, your success will help other people. The key to success is remembering that success is a journey and realizing that success is hard! On your success journey, there will be smooth easy passes, but also pit stops and potholes. The secret is to just keep going. One of the biggest mistakes we often make, is comparing our success to someone else's success. Remember, success is not measured by what you do compared to what somebody else does, success is measured by what you do compared to what you are capable of. Are you tapping in to your fullest potential? If so, you can count on success. If not, let's talk about what you need. Did you know you can meet for a complimentary session with one of our awesome Success Partners? Respond to this email, "Yes, I would like my free coaching session." A coach can help you successfully achieve whatever you desire. Your time is now!

Your Weekly Winning Article:

Based on the Nielson Ratings and other studies, only about 9% of people who set goals successfully achieve them. Why is that? The simple answer: Success is hard! Success can be compared to putting together a puzzle. It requires all the pieces connected to see the complete picture. If any piece is missing, it makes the puzzle even more difficult. Success is the same. If you are serious about achieving your goals and dreams, like a puzzle, you must have all the pieces needed for success.
