

What are you attracting?

The law of attraction states whatever is in your thoughts becomes your reality. Therefore, you attract what you are not what you want. Welcome to this edition of your Weekly Winning Resource all about the word attract. At I've Decided, we believe living and working from the heart will help you be the energy you want to attract. Success is definitely a heart condition. When you live and work from the heart, you will focus on being the best person you can be. In turn, you attract the best possible life, love, and opportunities to you. "Whatever you hold in your mind on a consistent basis is exactly what you will experience in life." There is great truth in this quote by Tony Robbins. The question we must answer is, "What is happening in my heart and mind on a regular basis?" If we can improve our thoughts to be more positive and less negative, we will attract more positive things. Our quote of the week says it all, "The better I become, the better I attract!"
