

Why do dreams die?

April showers bring May flowers! We welcome May and the beautiful flowers that are popping up all around us. The trees are covered with their new leaves, the grass is growing, and we are once again surrounded by color everywhere. How appropriate that this edition of the Weekly Winning Resource is all about the word nurture. In the same way nature takes care of providing the needs for our spring growth, we have to provide the needs to our dreams and nurture them so they will grow. It's a great analogy! To nurture your dreams and desires is one of the greatest things you can do for yourself. It is how you can ensure you live the life you want and know that you are fulfilling your purpose. Your dreams and goals are living things. You have birthed them through God inspired ideas and your thoughts. Essentially, your dreams are like a garden, they will only grow if you nurture them. If you don't, they will surely perish, and we can't let that happen. Our mission at I've Decided is your success, and as long as you are in our garden, we intend to make sure you have what you need to grow

Your Weekly Winning Article:

Do you believe that you can have the life you desire and see your dreams come true? We hope so, because you can. At I've Decided, we speak a lot about the power of positivity. Thinking positive is a very important part of success, but it takes something more. You must nurture your dreams. This may sound like practical advice, but if it were easy, everyone would be living the life of their dreams. We can look around and see that's not happening. Having a dream is a wonderful thing, but how do we make it come true. Our article this week will give you 6 ways you can nurture your dreams to reality. Check it out: Click Here to Read

Your Weekly Winning Challenge:

What is the one thing you can do that will nurture your dream the most? Use the Weekly Decision Tracker in your Success Workbook & Journal to turn it into a SMART goal.
